1. No aircraft were observed at the NEURUPPIN (N 53/Z 49) airfield. Some undamaged kasernes in the southeastern section of the field were occupied by the Soviets. A dump with four high sentry boxes was north of the field. The road leading to the dump was rutted by tanks. Air force officers were observed entering and leaving the Soviet officers' camp on the main road to MITTSTOCK (N 54/U 11), northeast of the field.
2. According to a surveying official, the Maerkische Bauunion Firm was to start reconditioning work at the field on 10 November 1949. The work was scheduled to be completed in six months. Some owners of gardens on the landing field were removing their fences and wooden booths and said they had been given notice.
